A new look and feel

Biomega has rebranded so that our image is in line with the company vision and mission.

11.09.2019

"Biomega is ready for the future and we adjusted our branding to be aligned with our growth and further ambitions," explains Director of Global Sales Marianne Warnaer. "As we look broader than biorefining fish species, the logo and our graphic profile needed to change."

The circles in the new logo reflect Biomega's commitment to the circular economy. Our corporate purpose is to make a positive impact on the world, improving the quality and vitality of life.

The new website and all other communications materials reflect the new Biomega brand.

"We are very excited about this change and how it resonates with our next steps," says Warnaer. "Let us know what you think!"
